DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference characters not mentioned in the description: 25.1 and 25.2. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference characters in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: Battery pack with vertical cells and slide in latch.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sugiura et al. [hereinafter Sugiura][US 6,537,694] in view of Ellsworth [US 6,467,747].

As to Claim 1, Sugiura discloses a battery pack (Figure 2) having a housing(20), wherein the housing has a floor part and at least two side walls running almost parallel to each other and almost perpendicular to the floor part, wherein the housing has a recess on at least one side wall oriented towards the inside of the housing(25), a plurality of cells arranged vertical to the floor part in the housing(4) and a latching device with at least one recess(26).

Sugiura does not expressly disclose wherein the at least one actuation means is guided on a guide means displaceable relative to the housing, a translatory axis of the at least one actuation means is oriented almost vertical to the side wall and almost parallel to the floor.

Ellsworth discloses(Figure 9) wherein the at least one actuation means is guided on a guide means displaceable relative to the housing(50), a translatory axis of the at least one actuation means is oriented almost vertical to the side wall and almost parallel to the floor.

It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the battery pack of Sugiura et al. and add a spring loaded connector between the two lock buttons as taught by Ellsworth in order to create a spring biasing the first pin and the second pin from a first position where the alignment knobs are close together to a second position where the alignment knobs are spaced further apart than in the first position.

Art Unit: 2838

As to Claim 2, Ellsworth (Figures 3 and 4) discloses a guide means that includes a guide bar.

As to Claim 3, see remark for claim 1. Ellsworth discloses (Figure 9) a spring means which is arranged coaxial on the guide means(50) and each of the actuation means resiliently abuts the spring means(92).

As to Claim 4, Sugiura discloses (Figure 2) wherein the latching device has two actuation means(Column 4, lines 61-63) and the side walls each have a recess(25).

As to Claim 5, Sugiura discloses (Figure 2) wherein each recess is opposite another recess on the side walls (Column 4, lines 61-65).

As to Claim 6, Sugiura discloses (Figure 3) where in at least one recess is open towards the floor part(19).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Bailey, Jr. et al. (US 6,057,608) discloses a similarly structured battery pack.
